VOTER REGISTRATION

The city clerk's office is arranging for on-site voter registration for the coming city election at Springhill Lake, Greenbriar and Greenbelt Homes in addition to the city offices. Places and hours, including weekends, will be announced in the News Review next week.

Recreation Review

Orioles Game

On July 19 the Greenbelt Rec. Dept. and Kava Teen Club are sponsoring a night at Baltimore's Memorial Stadium to see the league leading Baltimore Orioles. The 'Birds' will be playing the California Angels, one of the top clubs in the American League. The trip will cover the cost of admission and bus transportation. Seats are limited and will be sold on a first come, first serve basis. The bus will leave the Youth Center at 6 p.m. Call 474-6878 to reserve a place.

Summer CPR Classes

A basic CPR class is being offered to Greenbelt residents at St. Hugh's Grenoble Hall on Tues. and Wed., July 17 and 18 from 7-10:30 p.m. Please call the Rec. Dept. Business Office at 474-6878 to register. Donate 6-8 hours of time and learn how to save a life.

Summer Playgrounds

Playgrounds are held at the Springhill Lake Rec. Center and North End Elementary School, Mon.-Fri., 10 a.m.-4 p.m. All children 6-12 years are welcome. Activities include arts and crafts, sports, table games, nature hikes and special events. The playgrounds are co-sponsored by the Greenbelt Rec. Dept., MNOPPC.

Host Homes Needed

Due to several unexpected cancellations, host homes are needed for French speaking foreign exchange students who will be in this area from July 15 to August 13. Call 794-8274 for further information.

Fun Runs

The Greenbelt Running Club's Fun Runs for Sat., July 14, will include distances of 1/2, 1, and 2 miles. Those interested should come to the Gunner's Mate Concession stand at 9 a.m. There are no pre-registration or entry fees and certificates are guaranteed to all finishers. For further information, call Larry Noel at 474-9362.

The Changing Face of Greenbelt

Construction-Development Plans Announced For "Greenbelt East" Commercial Complex

by Elaine Skolnik

Western Development Corporation has announced plans to break ground for the proposed 24.2 acre Greenway Shopping Center (Greenbelt East) later this summer. The tract officially became a part of Greenbelt on July 5. In the meantime grading permits are being processed for parcels A, B, C and D and on the adjacent 5-acre Smith-Ewing property (Western Development is the contract purchaser). The center is expected to open in the summer of 1980.

Sixty stores are planned in the first phase of the 220,000 square-foot center, which is located off Greenbelt Road between Hanover Parkway and the Baltimore Washington Parkway.

Herbert S. Miller, president of Western Development, said, "Because of its Beltway and Parkway location, we feel that this site has strong regional draw between the Washington and Baltimore markets and will be conveniently accessible

Post Office Standardizes Envelope, Post Card Size

Starting July 15, the Postal Service makes its new size standards effective. Cards and envelopes measuring less than 3 1/2 inches high or 5 inches long no longer will be mailable and will be returned to the sender.

Extra large first-class envelopes—more than 6 by 11 1/2 inches—will incur a 7-cent surcharge if they weigh one ounce or less.

Postmaster Emory Harman reminds people that these oversized pieces will be returned to the sender if they do not carry the 7-cent surcharge but can be remailed if the surcharge postage then is affixed. However, delays for these pieces can be avoided if mailers make sure that sufficient postage has been applied.

The new regulations also will prohibit thin or flimsy cards. After July 15, the cards must be at least seven thousandths (.007) of an inch thick.

"Small envelopes and flimsy cards tend to jam mail processing equipment and cause damage to other mail as well," explained Postmaster Harman. "The surcharge on oversized or odd-shaped pieces is intended to cover the added cost of handling such pieces which must be processed manually," he said.

Labor Day Festival

The Labor Day Festival Committee is actively seeking participants in this year's event—the 25th anniversary of the Festival. Non-profit organizations who plan to sponsor a booth are asked to contact Tony Falvo, carnival chairman, 474-3062. Individuals or groups interested in participating in the parade, contact Wayne Williams, parade chairman, 474-1259. Girls who would like to take part in the Miss Greenbelt Pageant, contact Barbara Van Wambeke, 345-2278. Those with talents suitable for the stage, contact Beverly Colvin, special events chairman, 474-8479, or Jean Cook, talent show chairman, 345-2597.

Greenbelt Citizens Asn

An organizational meeting of the Greenbelt Citizens Association will be held on Monday, July 23 at 7:30 p.m. in the library conference room. The meeting is being held for the purpose of adopting the organization's constitution and bylaws.

All interested residents of the city are invited to attend this meeting.

Permission for Underground Shelter Denied GHI Builder

by Alexander Barnes

At a special board meeting held Thursday, June 19, the GHI board rose above compassion to deny a member's request to complete an underground shelter adjacent to his end unit. In a moment of some drama climaxing the meeting, designer and builder Jonathan Goldstein addressed the board before the final vote was taken:

"... have you ever built anything larger than yourself, or created a painting, or given birth to a child?" he pleaded.

In spite of this desperate plea, the board voted 4 to 2 to deny his request to complete the shelter.

Those voting to deny the request cited three basic issues: precedent, safety, and liability. There was little disagreement about the fact that Goldstein had done substantial construction on the shelter without notifying GHI. Goldstein readily conceded this and apologized for it. He pointed out that subsequent to GHI's discovery of the shelter, he had spent over $2,000 to comply with GHI directives. But past president James Smith was not satisfied.

"What if we let people keep additions simply because they conform to county regulation?" he asked.

Questions about the safety of the shelter were raised, as well as the possibility of a cave-in. In response, Goldstein pointed out that the county had certified his plans for the shelter as being safe. GHI Manager Roy Breashears read into the record a memorandum from Staff Engineer Ove Kongsted which recommended that Goldstein be allowed to complete the shelter, that it presented no safety hazard.

Nevertheless, in response to a question by Smith, Breashears stated management's position as being in opposition to the shelter because of future potential problems. He cited the possibility that if GHI built a waste burning heating system, this shelter would interfere with the required trenches around the buildings. If it were to be approved, he continued, it would have to be filled in prior to resale. Board Member Ed James asked "Has any professional found the proposed shelter to be unsafe?" He received no answer.

Concerned about potential liability, a board member asked, "What if a child got in and fell down the shaft?"

"He would need burglar's tools to get into either entrance," responded Goldstein. "Besides, if he is going to fall off or into something, the city overpasses or storm drains present a much greater danger."

Board member Bobbie McCarthy asked if the manager had any information from the insurance company about coverage. Breashears said he had no direct information but that he would infer from another situation (the possible burning of 10 Laurel Hill by the fire department) that they would be covered. However, if they sustained a loss, their rate might go up.

For months Goldstein had secretly worked on his underground shelter. He carried out the dirt he dug between 3 and 6 a.m. in January until he was discovered by a member of the GHI staff. He was then ordered by the county, which had been notified by GHI, to close up the shaft. Goldstein subsequently retained architect George Brunatti to draw up plans which would bring his shelter into conformity with county regulations.

Greenbelt Cares Job Bank

by Jean Marie Gainey

Greenbelt CARES is sponsoring a job bank to enable teenagers, 15 years old and under, who are too young to get work permits, to get odd jobs around the community.

Adults are not the only jobseekers confronted by the obstacle of scarcity of options. "There are a lot of kids who are interested in doing jobs, but the community response has been scarce," said Greenbelt CARES outreach counselor Jim Holmes.

Greenbelt CARES follows up on the job assignments and so far has received favorable reports from satisfied "employers."

Holmes views the job bank, also, as a "preventive" program providing "structured ways for kids to spend some time" and to make some money.

Anyone who has an odd job that needs doing is encouraged to give the opportunity to Greenbelt CARES to assign one of their interested teenagers.

Any odd job is a welcome assignment, such as grass cutting, babysitting, cleaning out gutters, painting, housecleaning, moving, grocery trips and errands.

Outreach counselors, Jim Holmes and Wendy Wexler, may be reached at the Greenbelt CARES office at 345-6660.

CORRECTION

Greenbelt's City Clerk, Gudrun Mills, issued the following statement, noting misinformation contained in a flyer that was circulated in some areas of Greenbelt this week.

"While I will assist persons who want to circulate a petition by offering information and answering questions, I cannot—as City Clerk—assist in the collection of signatures. Persons should not come to the city offices to sign any petition."

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

The Community Ministry Food Stamp Outreach needs volunteers to work with the Department of Social Services, helping people by making appointments for them and advising them what verification they will need to bring with them.

According to a spokesperson for the department, "Many of our best volunteers come from Greenbelt."

Please call 779-2177 between 9-4 weekdays and ask for Pat or Lynn.

Frightening Fact

The GHI board finds itself on the horns of a dilemma. On the one hand, if it is to save substantial sums of money in fuel oil this coming winter, it must proceed as rapidly as possible with the rehabilitation program authorized by the membership. On the other hand, to carry out this program at the least cost to members, it must obtain members' consent to a subordination amendment to their mutual ownership contract which will enable the corporation to borrow at a low interest rate of 8% instead of the current high commercial bank rates of over 12%.

So far, 410 members have signed the amendment but 219 more signatures are needed to satisfy the State's requirement. Apparently many members have not appreciated the need for urgency in signing the amendment.

The frightening fact is that the cost of fuel oil is escalating more rapidly than the most pessimistic projection ever anticipated. GHI's budget for heating during 1979 was based on oil costing 45 cents per gallon. The actual cost this week is 60 cents a gallon. And the expected cost this winter will range from 80 cents to more than a dollar!

That is not all; unofficially, the cooperative has been informed that its allocation of oil for the winter will be reduced.

In such a situation, members will have to pull together and show some mutual trust.

With regard to the particular amendment itself, it is important to realize that it is specifically restricted to the purpose of satisfying insurance requirements on loans made through State agencies; it has no other motive or design.

Many members were concerned enough to participate in the months of planning for the rehabilitation program, and to attend the meeting last October which gave the go-ahead. We expect that most of these have already willingly signed the amendment. Now, other members can make an all-important contribution by adding their own signatures.

'Neath the Rockets' Red Glare

Wednesday, July 5, 1979. The night air was crisp and the mood expectant. There was the usual milling about, though by 8:45 most found a spot to plunk their blanket or chair. A few had their own covert activity as the intermittent hiss and crackle reverberating through the crowd indicated.

As citizens we had come for our show. And we were not disappointed. A sparkling array of rockets boomed through the air, illuminating the sky.

We were reminded of our independence as a country and we were thankful. We were reminded of our bounty as a community and we were doubly thankful. How fortunate we are able to walk to an area of such beauty—sit on the gently sloping hillside with our family and neighbors, and watch the brilliant display against a breathtaking backdrop of tall trees and sparkling water.

The festivities were only slightly dampened by the one day's delay. The chill in the air seemed to draw us closer, heightening our sense of pride in our country's celebration and in our community's gathering.

To those most closely connected with the physical aspects of the display, — the city's Public Works Department—we thank you for a job well done.

While Public Works Director George Smith was on hand, the show was directed by Paul Williams, who also lit the ground displays and fired the big mortars. Kenneth Hall, Richard Mills and John Yakupkovic also fired mortars.

Dennis Doornekamp assisted in the arrangement and helped with the set-up. Carpenter Dan Himmelfarb made frames for ground displays, helped set up and fed mortars. Herbert Michael, Gene Diest, Michael Rousseau and Don Dorsey also fed mortars. Joseph Lonesky protected the barrels of live shells.

The fireworks were the best we have seen. We especially enjoyed the new ones—those that made shrill cries in the night air and those that streaked zaniily through the sky and those that flashed brighter than the rest and remained just an instant longer.

It was a good fourth—and fifth of July. And to all those who made it possible, we thank you.

Allen C. Frost

Allen C. Frost, who lived on Parkway Road for a number of years, died on July 4 following a short illness. Frost worked for 9 years in the purchasing department of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. He was a former resident of College Park where he lived with his parents, the late Fred and Mabel Frost. He is survived by his sisters, Ida Moreland, Anne Doyle, Jeanne Russell and Mary Louise Milstead. Mass of the Christian Burial was offered at St. Hugh's Saturday, July 7 and interment followed at Fort Lincoln Cemetery.

Kenneth Clay

Kenneth Clay, a former Greenbelt resident, died of cancer July 6. He is survived by his wife Marcia and children Randy and Karen of Alpharetta, Georgia; parents Lloyd and Marvaine Clay, Palm Coast, Florida, and sisters Susan Peterson, Newport News Va., and Carol Ann Slocum, Orange, N.J.

Mr. Clay had resided in Greenbelt for 41 years. He was a member of the first graduating class of High Point High School and of its basketball team.

Police Blotter

The Department was kept busy last week with the annual 4th of July fireworks. The dispatchers answered over 2,040 calls between 7 a.m. July 3 and 11 p.m. July 5 from people wanting to know when the fireworks were going to be held. The majority of the calls, 1,040, were answered between 3 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. on the Fourth. This volume was caused by the rain. First everyone wanted to know if the fireworks had been cancelled, and then later called back to find out when the fireworks would be re-scheduled. Three dispatchers were on duty to handle the massive volume of calls, in addition to an extremely busy regular shift.

Officers were all on duty Wednesday afternoon and again Thursday afternoon and evening to control the crowds generated by the fireworks display. Traffic was at a standstill for an hour on Kenilworth Avenue from Crescent Road to Calvert Road due to people who apparently decided to stop in the roadway and watch the display. The entire Lark Park was filled to overflowing capacity, as were the median strips of Kenilworth and Greenbelt Road. The Golden Triangle also drew a capacity crowd after the shoulders of Greenbelt Road filled up. It took officers an hour to clear the streets after the fireworks ended.

As traffic was being cleared from the area a motorcycle with a side car operated by a 31 year old non-resident struck a parked car on Crescent Road. When officers attempted to stop the vehicle the operator attempted to run over the officers. A short chase ensued and the vehicle was finally stopped. The operator was charged with numerous charges, including operating under the influence and reckless driving, and being in possession of a concealed deadly weapon. He was transported to Hyattsville and incarcerated in lieu of $1,700 bond.

The American Legion was broken into during the night. A safe containing approximately $350 was reported stolen. Investigation is continuing.

The High's Store on Centerway was broken into during the early morning of June 23. The culprits fled the scene and were then involved in a hit and run collision at the 3 Court of Crescent Road. Two apprehensions were made at the scene of the accident, both were transported to Doctor's Hospital to be treated for injuries sustained in the accident. A short time later, the third subject was located at the hospital. All three were non-residents, two 15 year olds and one 17 year old. They were brought to the station and released to their parents to await Juvenile Court action.

At the Library

On July 18, Wednesday Morning Films will present "How the Mole Got His Trousers" and "The Story About Ping." The show, for ages 2-6 begins at 10:30 a.m. in the Meeting Room. The July 17 feature will be "National Velvet."

Invitation to Bid Bituminous Concrete Paving and Smooth Seal Bituminous Concrete

The City of Greenbelt will receive at its Municipal Building, 25 Crescent Road, Greenbelt, Maryland 20770, until 2:00 P.M. (EDST), August 8, 1979, sealed bids for approximately 11,700 s.y. of 2" bituminous concrete paving and for approximately 5,200 s.y. of smooth seal bituminous concrete, at which time they will be publicly opened and read. Specifications may be obtained at the Purchasing Office, Municipal Building (474-8052).

Energy Solution?

"... heating oil prices as high as $1.50 a gallon by December..." Is the expectation of the Beltsville oil dealer (Prince Georges Journal, July 3) beyond the realm of possibility? It is not, if the history of charges to GHI in recent months is a guide.

GHI's price of last October 26 was 43.62 cents per gallon. Effective June 30 the price was 62.62 cents, including tax. In eight months prices rose by 43.6 per cent. At that rate, the price would exceed 75 cents by the end of the year.

If one projects over a shorter time period, the prospects are even more dire. Prices increased by 18 per cent between April 18 and June 30. If that rate continues, oil at $1.50 a gallon in December would be a bargain.

In the short run, reduction of consumption is the answer for the heating oil user. Among other things, that means adequate insulation. In the long run, the solution appears to be another energy source for heat. Happily, the short run answer will serve the long run solution.

An Enjoyable Evening Out

by Mary Lou Williamson

A night at Petrucci's Main Street Dinner Theater in Laurel, is a very enjoyable night out. Housed in a renovated movie theater a block from the Patuxent River, the scene is intimate and friendly. Petrucci family members—and there are many—greet customers every step of the way, from directing arrivals to available parking to providing a delicious Italian-American buffet.

The doors open Thursday at 6 p.m., Friday at 6:30 p.m., Saturday at 6 p.m. and Sunday at 4:30. Dinner begins an hour after opening, the performance two and a half hours after opening. (We found an hour barely sufficient for dinner.)

The romantic musical, "The Fantasticks", which runs from now through the end of summer, tells the story of two young lovers whose parents hope to bring them together by pretending to oppose their match.

Bill Howe was magnificent as the narrator, his rich baritone voice gave depth to the performance. Ron Bogle, the young boy in love, showed his extensive musical training with his colorful tenor. Patricia Howard, pretty as a china doll in her blue frock, with a beautiful voice too, gave a convincing portrayal as the young heroine.

Dial 911 for Fire/Rescue

by Wayne Lewis

Recently a Greenbelt citizen covered a fire hydrant with branches from the trees he had pruned in his yard. Not only is this an unsafe condition but it is also against the law. A fine of $1,000 and/or six months imprisonment may result from a deed of this type. Please, make sure the fire hydrants in your area are free of any obstacles which would prevent their use if the need occurs.

Many local residents have placed their house numbers in clear view during the past few months. However, many of the homes have the house numbers missing or they are hidden by foliage. Help us help you by making it easier for assistance to find your home if the need arises. Make sure your house numbers can be seen from the street or walkway.

Swim Team News

by Clint Boushell

Five team records were broken last Saturday as Greenbelt beat Smallwood Village by a score of 296 to 245.

Craig Dies beat the team records in the 11-12 year old freestyle and breast stroke events. Team records were also broken by Nicolette Durantine in the 15-18 butterfly and Mark Blue in the 15-18 butterfly. Twelve year old Lynda Blue tied the team record in the 13-14 individual medley.

High point scorers were Craig Dies (15), James Fellows (15), Nicolette Durantine (15), Lynda Blue (15), Susan Gardes (15), Mark Blue (13), Margaret Williamson (13), Ken Blue (13), Brian Dies (10½), Jay Gordon (10), Karen Jones (10), and Rob Reed (10).

This Saturday, July 14, Greenbelt will swim at Cheverly at 9 a.m. Swimmers should meet at the Greenbelt pool by 8 a.m.

We have it on high authority that sharing the ride is a very good idea.

it made sense to Noah.
After all, it was a whole lot more economical and efficient to get together and share the ride than it would have been for everybody to go their own way.
And that still holds true today. Sharing the ride with just one other person can cut your commuting costs in half.

Think about it.

Share the ride with a friend.
It sure beats driving alone.

GREENBELT - The Place to Live!

Randum Thoughts and Miscellaneous Adventures on The Fifth of July

by Alan Amberg

As I walked from my house to have my annual fight with the crowds, the firecrackers, and to "enjoy" the fireworks; I really had no idea what I would write this article about. The exaggerated strains of the press release by Zambelli Fireworks International Co., which I quoted in part in the article "July 4 Celebration Promises To 'Transform the Heavens'" (GNR, June 28), left me skeptical (in fact, they convinced me that I could expect nothing but another short, two-bit and disappointing show). The weather foreboded rain for the second straight day, despite constant weatherman's predictions of 'no chance of rain', and cars were parked on the shoulder of Crescent Road almost up to Hillside Road.

While I was thinking, several young men obviously non-residents asked me for directions to the lake. This gave me an idea. I helped them and discovered that these people had come all the way from Clinton. I walked along the rows of parked cars and inquired where the visitors had come from. The answers were varied: Glenn Dale, College Park, Upper Marlboro. One young woman was from England, visiting with a friend from Lanham. This was her first American Independence Day.

I entered the Lake Park. There were firecrackers exploding everywhere, plenty of boaters, and the usual assortment of lovers, picnickers, beer drinkers and people who made fun of our roving reporter. Police were alert and patrolling for possessors of illegal fireworks. Frisbies, beer, firecrackers, potato chips, colas and candy bars all seemed to be the order of the day. It was far less crowded than I had anticipated; one police officer told me that a crowd of between 20,000-60,000 was expected, but there couldn't have been more than 10,000 people. The same officer also told me that on the miserable, rainy Fourth, between 4,000-5,000 people showed up.

Maureen Charron, a former resident, had her camera set up on a tripod to take multiple exposure pictures of the fireworks.

On the bandstand, a Seabrook gentleman, identified only as "Piere the Piano Man", was playing an instrument he had created called an "Air-powered Calliope".

There were several "Lost Parent" announcements.

Two young men saw me taking notes and wanted to know what I was doing. Upon finding out that I was writing an article, they asked if they could be in it. So Ronny Meade and Tony Abunassar of Beltsville remind all of Greenbelt that as of the Fifth, their Beltsville 10-year old Little League team is the county divisional champ.

Two slightly older but still young ladies of GHI also wanted to know what I was doing — was I writing a story for the Greenbelt News Review and what was my name? I answered and since they were familiar with the name "Amberg" from GHI circles, chatted with me and later invited me to share their blanket with them during the fireworks display. One of them, Barbara Gredmour, referring to the explosions, commented that "fireworks aren't fireworks unless you feel them in your heart." She also compared the skyrocket bursts to "diamonds falling from heaven". The other, Kathleen Foster, suggested, that in honor of the weather, I call my article "Better Late Than Never."

Five minutes after the show started, I heard a small boy near by ask "When's this gonna be over?" I heard people crying out after some of the more spectacular shells, which mystified me until I overheard someone explaining "When they say 'ooh!', that means they like it." Several of the shells that showered live sparks into the nearby boats on the lake were followed by cries of "Kill 'em!" and "There's another one overboard." Whistling shells drew applause and cheers such as "I like those!"

A gentleman sitting next to me cried out in the middle of the show, "Down with Carter and Doonesbury!" When I asked him whether politics were appropriate for the "Fourth" of July, he responded "What is independence?" It was indeed refreshing to find someone who was actually thinking about the meaning of the holiday.

The fireworks were truly great! They lasted about 70 minutes, the skyrockets were different than in past years and just magnificent. The rain never materialized, the sky was clear, and a bright moon set off the lake, but it was cold. The ground displays mostly fizzled, but there were skyrockets and to spare. The best of all was the grand finale, 340 skyrockets at once. It commanded many cheers and much applause.

GHI Notes

The Board of Directors meeting is tonight at 8 p.m. in the Board Room on Hamilton Place.

Beginning in August, the blood pressure testing on Wednesdays, between 2-4 p.m., in the GHI Board Room will take place twice a month instead of every week. The Red Cross nurse will be testing on the first and third Wednesdays of the month. More nurses are needed. Any registered or student nurse who would like to volunteer to do the testing once a month, please call Sandra Barnes at GHI, 474-5566 or Kay Kelchner at the Red Cross, 559-8500.

Most of the people I talked with afterwards really liked the show and thought it was well worth coming to see. All in all, it was a lovely evening, but as I walked home one thing and one thing alone stood out in my mind — as soon as I get home, A Hot Bath!
